

Edita, Medina, Azra

Weather today & tomorrow

Every day, visitors of the swisscor camp tell us about the daily life in their own country and about their impressions of the camp. Edita Omeragic (12), Medina Cutura (9) and Azra Pobric (16) from Bosnia Herzegovina say hello: "Selam"

How do you like the camp?
We can hardly get out because the weather is not very often well... It's a pity!

What do you like then?
We like playing with our friends and having fun. It's just what all kids like...

If you had a wish for free...
Azra: Money!
Edita: I want to live abroad.
Medina: I'm just happy and I don't have any wishes, actually.

What do you know about Switzerland?
It's nice here! It's a very clean country. Most of all the streets are always cleaned up. You have cows, chocolate and cheese here. That's what we know about Switzerland... And you never had a war in this country, hadn't you?

Do you want to say hello to anybody?
We want to say hello to all the people in the camp. Especially to Suada, Sabina and Hayrija.

The opening party

For a camp like this, a big opening party is very important! The children prepared a little event to showing their participation. Even the soldiers prepared some actions. All participants of the party were under big tension. So let's start...

Primo Piatti

In the evening, all people came together on the place in front of the Kaserne Glaubenberg. A lot of the children were playing with people standing around. Some of them were talking to their guides.

These soap bubbles are really big!

The weather was fine when Clown "Gugu" started some funny actions and made the audience laughing.

When the sun started to shine, the folks were having much pleasure. After a while the soldiers were showing some games to the children. A girl shouts to a passing soldier: „Ooh, Shakespeare! B y e b y e ! “

Then the audience went into the Kaserne where another event was starting. Our well-known Clown "Gugu" said welcome to all children. He sang some songs in different languages: whistling, dudu – Language, dada-language, mimi and momo-language.

At the end of his performance he talked to a bird which was eating some bubbles.

Secondo Piatti

After the dinner, clown "Gugu" started his second part of performance. As for a surprise a big package was taken to this special event. A lot of funny things were lying in this package When everybody was silent, he took some pieces of a puzzle and put them together to a big red heart. The heart is the symbol of the Swisscor-Camp.

A heart for children

Furthermore he had some rhythm-instruments. With these tools and the assistance of a lot of children he prepared a drum session. He played with the kids and all the available instruments he had in there. The main attraction still to come: His friend Kaspar! Kaspar wore a military uniform and a funny red cap.

He had some problems with his red nose, which could not keep be kept on his nose. Otherwise he was able to play the violin in an excellent style. So they began to perform a little concert. The audience was clapping its hands. They were all very amused! Last but not least, all people sang a song for Mile, a boy who had his birthday this unique day.

A big folk music party

Now, a chorus of soldiers started to sing some famous Swiss folk songs. There were songs like „Hemmige“, „Es Buurebüebli“, „Luegid vo Bärig und Tal“, „Kiosk“, etc. After this presentation, which has been awarded by a big applause. Children started to make her own presentation. All the children of each single Clown Gugu is so funny.

What will Gugu take out of this yellow box?

country s a n g their original folk songs. During the presentation of the Albanian group, the soldiers of her family were singing, too. Some traditional dances, a lot of songs and a girl presenting a poem in front of all the 200 people followed. She was very brave! The little chorus with its strong voice prepared the end. They sang the song: „Wenn eine tannigi Hose het...“

After this, and a super applause, the little folk festival in the camp ended. It was very impressive for everybody in the room.

The atmosphere was extraordinary and the children went to bed with a lot of happy impressions and surely very tired. Thanks to all the people for organizing this great event!

The soldiers are singing swiss hansons. The chant was a big attraction!
